INDEPENDENCE – OUR AMERICAN DREAM: the strength to spread our wings and free ourselves from the chains that bind us; the strength to live by our own standards, to soar high above the conforming masses and breathe the air of freedom.

THE BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION – 1976, the anniversary of our national independence, has arrived. We are enveloped in a cloud of red, white, and blue. Independence, as a concept, does not only relate to the Bicentennial Celebration; it also ties in closely with the desires of young people today. It is because of this dual nature of independence that we have chosen it as the theme of Rochellean '76.

OUR AMERICAN HERITAGE — 1776-1976. From a group of colonists with but a single dream, independence, we have developed into a nation of worldwide importance.

Yes, this is the Bicentennial year. If we look beyond the flagwaving around us, we may find the true significance of the Bicentennial. It is a milestone from which we may look back to those men and women who have made this country what it is today. They emerge as the very personification of independence. It has been from the words of such figures that our nation has derived its strength.

Liberty, when it begins to take root is a plant of rapid growth.

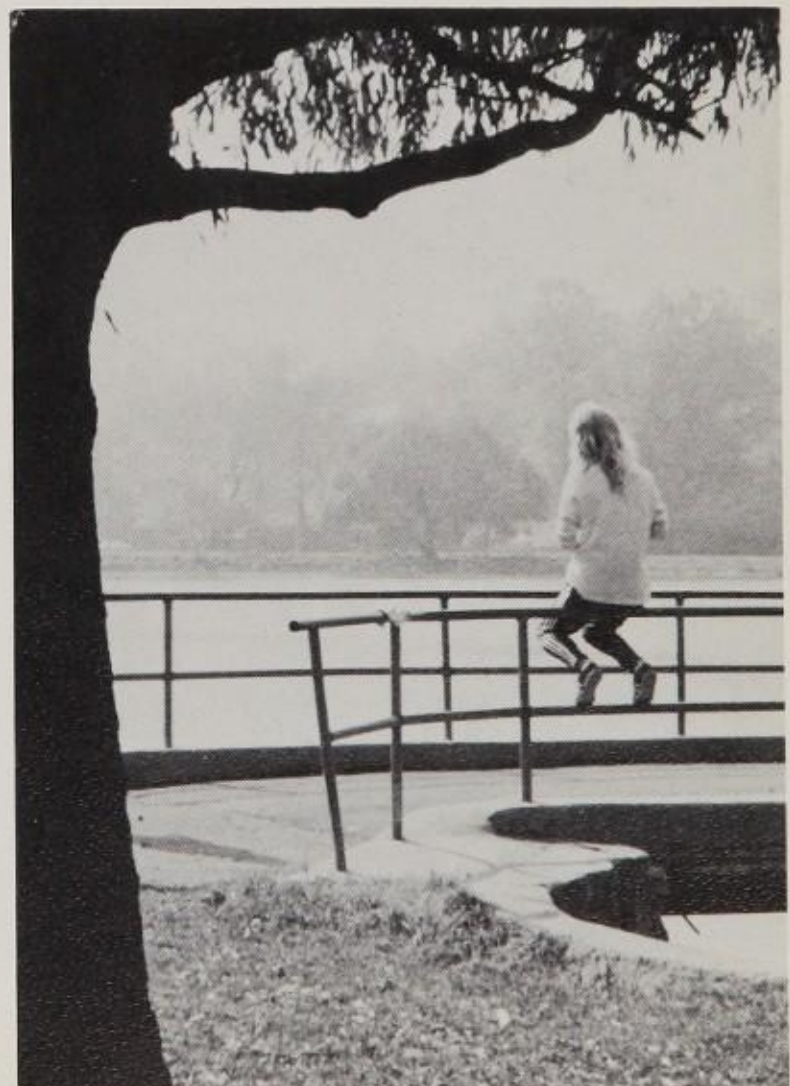

— George Washington

Dear Debbie, we had a lot of fun today a lot of English in care and you're person me, rock. Great Remember me, Debbie

Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must undergo the fatigue of supporting it.

Dear Debbie:

We were in the same English class for 3 years, and it's been nice
knowing you. Much success in the future —
I like the dreams of the future . . .

To The Class of 1976:

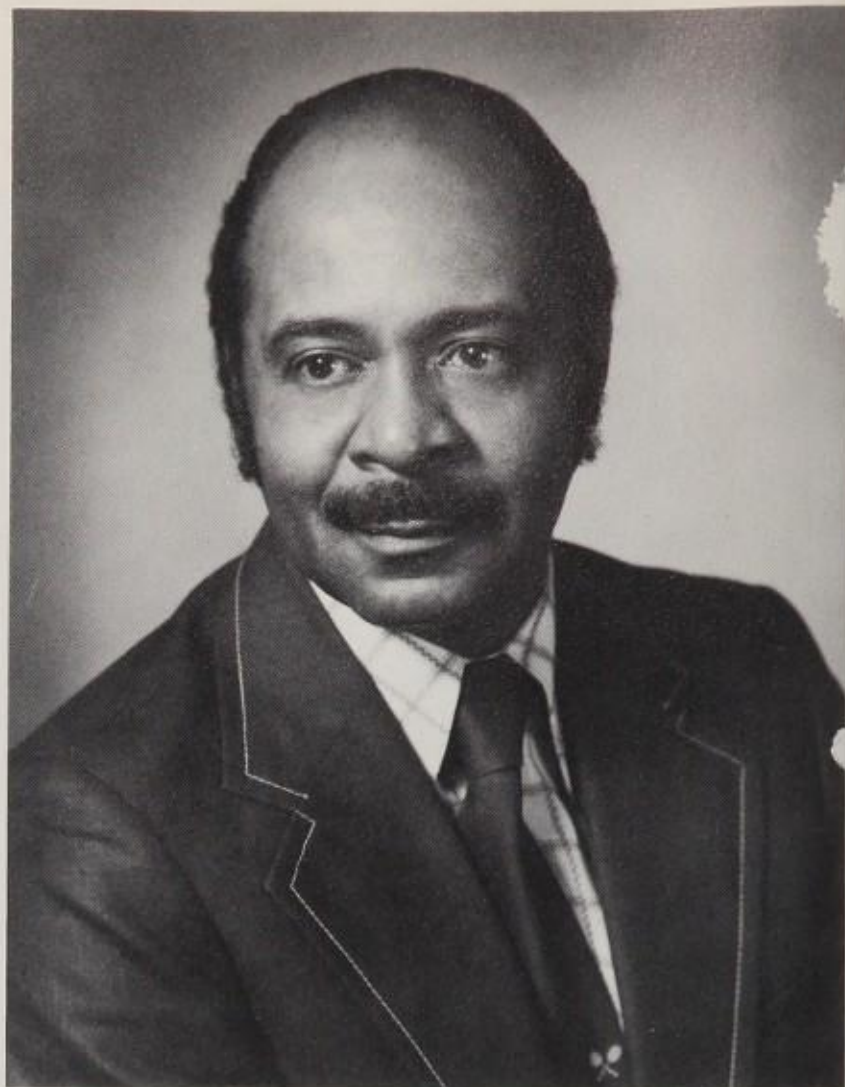

In this Bicentennial Year, the focus on our country's past brings with it an ever increasing concern for its future. It has been a major goal of New Rochelle High School to help you grow into upright, independent, intelligent and sympathetic people who can supply the responsible citizenship and creative leadership that are so necessary to meet the challenges of the future.

History demonstrates that we need not expect a long wait before recent scientific discoveries affect our lives. The lag was forty years from Maxwell's publication of the laws of the electromagnetic field to the first radio experiments by Marconi, ten years from the discovery of the neutron to the first nuclear reaction, and six years from the invention of the transistor to the first transistorized amplifier on the market.

Will the knowledge, the skills, the values you now possess enable you to meet the demands imposed by a more complicated and faster changing future which will confront you as a citizen, a worker and as a human being? The answer will depend on the efforts you now begin to exert in continued study, continued intellectual curiosity, continued independence and continued open-mindedness which elevate new ideas on merit and truth rather than on ignorance, preconception or prejudice.

It is your destiny to have been born in a difficult century, but you are a generation rich in natural endowments. In addition, you have been given an education that will serve as a good foundation on which to continue to grow.

CLUBS

This year the General Organization was responsible for the very successful activities that were featured throughout the year: Donkey Basketball, Pep Rallies, Cafes, and dances that were featured as Discos. The G.O. also endowed part of their funds to the La Rochelle New Rochelle exchange program. Their main goal in this Bi-Centennial year was to unite the school under one organization, that of the G.O., a plan well instituted.

Go Officers

Unwilling to follow any set pattern, this year's Senior Class has undertaken and succeeded in being unique. This change was evidenced in the Homecoming Disco with a live D.J. — a New Rochelle High School first. Following this success a subsequent Valentine Disco was held later in the year.

The enthusiasm of the Senior Class Officers led to an equally zealous group known as the Senior Prom Committee which helped the organization of Senior activities.

With the success of the previous dynamic events this year's Senior Class looks forward to the always interesting and eventful Senior Week and the elegant Senior Prom.

The Senior Class Officers wish to express their thanks to all the administrators, teachers and students that have assisted and supported the class activities.

This year's Junior Class, under the guidance of Mr. Lombardo, proved itself competent by successfully holding dances, movies and other events. As a fund raising project, the entire class sold candy bars. The officers performed excellently in their very important, junior year.

America has need of thousands of leaders who will never be elected President or even a governor of a state or president of a professional society, but who, quietly and without ostentation, nevertheless will extend true leadership in their several walks of life.

— HAROLD WILLIS DODDS

Spiked Shoe Society

The Spiked Shoe Society is a group dedicated to raising money for the track team to help pay for the cost of equipment and transportation.

Computer Science Club

The evolution of computers is a significant part of the human evolution and an appreciation of their importance may provide fresh insights into our place as the most rapidly evolving species on earth.

— JOHN EDWARD PFEIFFER

Chess Club

Each week at the Chess Club gambits fly, sacrifices abound, and poisoned pawns are swallowed as novices and experts alike match wits in one of the world's oldest and most thought provoking games. Aspiring world champions, members of the chess team, compete with teams from other schools in the Westchester Interscholastic Chess League.

Ping Pong Club

The Ping Pong Club is a co-ed organization, consisting of students with varying degrees of proficiency in the game.

It meets on Tuesday afternoon in the Weight Room, where the members strive to advance their skills, while enjoying this always popular sport. Tournaments are held occasionally.

The Future Fashion Designers, this year's answer to the Debating Society, was formed as a result of students' needs to vent their creative talents. Surpassing the walls of the boy's bathroom in originality, many popular styles were devised, some of them being pictured above. One of the more popular looks are pants rolled to the knee combined with white socks, part of the impact of the hit movie, "The Tall Blond Man with One White Sock." The F.F.D. held many activities, among them lectures with such prominent speakers as Winnie Winkle and a representative from the David Bowie School of Dress Design. The F.F.D. also sponsored a contest in which students were invited to design a string bathing suit made up of only burlap and fig leaves. When a member of the club was asked why membership was so low, he scornfully attributed it to latent introversion and an attachment to petty bourgeois morals on the part of the students. However, another member confided that there were many hazards to joining, such as being beaten by ladies of the P.T.A. and having razor blades hidden in their Oreos.

Future Fashion

Lisa Miller, Teddy Meyer, Robert Wolper, Danny Mintz.

Jewish Heritage Club

The Jewish Heritage Club is an organization whose aim is to unite the students with common interests and to activate them towards Jewish causes such as American Jewish identity, Soviet Jewry, and Israel. The Club is involved in the All Culture Programs of our high school.

Meetings of the Jewish Heritage Club are open to the entire student body, faculty and administration. Holidays and festivals are remembered with party programs of food, song and dance. The student who becomes involved learns of the cultural, educational and social benefits of the Jewish culture.

Explorers Club

Members Are: Daniel Rosen, David Boyle, Ari Rothman, Oren Schaefer, Rachel Haft, Robert Stern, Ellen Woolf, Barbara Lowentheil, Denise Caspler, Susan Weicher, Steffi Berke, Larry Cowen, Mr. Dobin (Advisor).

The Explorers Club was organized by students who are interested in the great outdoors. The members all share an enthusiasm for outdoor recreation such as biking, camping, and hiking. The Explorers Club offers members a chance to further their interests by running bike trips, camping and hiking expeditions.

Investors Club

The Investors Club, consisting of those economically minded, future stock borkers, were very successful in their investment endeavors. By studying the market, they were able to profit from the ups and downs on Wall Street.

This year, S.A.V.E., a group of dedicated students, worked diligently to stamp out vandalism in the high school. S.A.V.E. represents Students Against Vandalism Everywhere. Through assembly programs, public address announcements, and publicity campaigns, the students involved with S.A.V.E. presented to the entire student body various problems relating to vandalism in the high school and ways to solve them. Painting and refurbishing the school's bathrooms is an important part of the many S.A.V.E. activities. The group is divided into eight subsections, each one concentrating on a specific aspect of the save objective.

The S.A.V.E. Committee has spoken in front of the New Rochelle City Council and presented their ideas to other high schools. Vandalism, destruction, litter, and numerous other problems are unnecessary evils within the school community and the Students Against Vandalism Everywhere believe the time has come to eliminate these evils.

Outreach

Through student volunteers, Outreach has provided academic tutoring for all those wishin help. Room 55B, Outreach's home, is always open for anyone who wants to study. Outreach sponsored trips this year to C.W. Post College to give students the feel of a college campus.

Through the Photography Club, interested students can obtain knowledge concerning basic darkroom skills such as development of film and printing and enlarging. In addition, members are taught the basics of operating cameras and their accessories.

Quiz Bowl

The purpose of the Quiz Bowl is to promote enthusiasm for education through healthy competition between schools. The team, coached by its advisor, Mrs. Ruby Levine was scheduled for several competitive meets throughout the year. Members of the team were Wayne Lewis, Danny Weiss, and Alf Seckel.

Service Club

The Service Club of NRHS is composed of students who volunteer during their unassigned periods to assist in one of the many school offices or media center area. Without the continued assistance from these students, many areas in school would be unable to function efficiently.

Fencing Club

The Fencing Club, under the leadership of Mr. McGowan, provided fencing instruction and experience to its members. Those that were more experienced were able to teach more advanced techniques to the other members. Meets were scheduled for competition with surrounding area schools.

Ambassador Club

The Ambassador Club, in conjunction with the experiment in International Living, enables a number of students, each summer, to travel abroad and become an adopted member of a foreign family. The objective of the club is to earn enough money, through various fund-raising activities, to expose selected N.R.H.S. students to cultures different from their own. In the past, the club has been extremely successful and it is hoped that this opportunity will continue to be provided in the years ahead.

S.A.P.S.

The S.A.P.S. (Social Activities Preparation Squad) originated last year when it was realized that with the title S.A.P., one could get into all school activities for free. The S.A.P.S. are comprised of seven "ambitious" young men who put their noses to the grindstone, and end up with ground up noses. S.A.P. activities include: The Fernell Follies, the Leiko Luncheon, and topped off with the Cedwyn Morgan Memorial Dinner. The S.A.P.S., unlike any other club, have meetings. Next year, when six of seven S.A.P.S. have gone, we wish the school much luck, knowing that it will be up the proverbial creek without the proverbial paddle. To our fearless leader, Willie-Boy, we leave the remaining T-shirts, and the hope that the S.A.P.S. name carries on in the years to come.

Bottom Row: Bob Wolper — "Quick Start S.A.P.", Roy DiBartolomeo — "Di S.A.P.", Ted Meyer — "Fashion Designing S.A.P.", Ricky Bach — "S.A.P. in waiting". The second was THE ME NOBODY KNOWS produced in the spring of '76. Other activities included trips to New York City to see Broadway shows and seminars on various areas of the theatre arts (acting to stage design). Model Congress

This year New Rochelle High School hosted its twelfth annual Model Congress. In keeping with the Bicentennial spirit, the Congress office had a new red, white, and blue look. However the turbulence of the new wallpaper was matched only by the "Federalist Fanfare" as it continued to arouse student and faculty interest. For the more than one hundred and fifty members of Model Congress this year was highlighted by a carnival, movie nights, fund raising drives, Convention II, and the weekly delegate meetings at which they learned how to debate using parliamentary procedure. Everything came to a climax at the Model Congress weekend when more than four hundred students from all over the nation came to New Rochelle for a re-creation of the legislative branch of government. The hard work of the Chairmen, staff, and all others involved paid off in the most successful Model Congress in several years.

Although students at New Rochelle High School don't stop each other in the hall and ask for the latest standings in this sport, once again our fiercely competitive Math Team has proven to be greatly successful. Under the skillful direction of Mr. Gary Schatzman, the team has taken a third place, a second and two firsts in our local division of the Westchester Interscholastic Math League. Presently there is hope that we will finish number one again, making three consecutive winning seasons in this countywide competition. It is however probable that we will send at least one mathlete to the state meets, the competitors including Dorian Klein, Lucy Moser, Jimmy Brock, and Ira Plattus. Members also competing regularly are David Rind and Alan Zuckerman, and as alternates Philippe Wiener, Adine Brandes, Pat Gelband, Mark Sloan and Monte Jaffe.

An organization like the Bicentennial Committee comes along only once in any country, even this one, so just by reading this paragraph you are taking part in an historical event. Other historical events that the Bicentennial Committee was responsible for this year included the ceremony officially opening the Bicentennial celebration at N.R.H.S., held at half-time of the Turkey Bowl, complete with 432 red, white and blue balloons, and Mayor Garito – almost), and the painting of the mural across from the House III office. The remaining Bicentennial events were somewhat less than historical but important nonetheless, and as 1976 is only half over, the Purple and White can expect alot more of the Red, White and Blue next year.

All in all, it is fair to say that this has been the best Bicentennial in our nation's history, and you can thank the Committee for that.

Art Service Club

The Art Service Club designs artwork to promote school and community events in addition to doing charts, booklets, posters, etc. for school administration and charity purposes. The Opus Staff had worked hard since September. The literary, arts, and business departments coordinate their efforts to produce Opus in the springtime. The publication of Opus is the highlight of the year.

We are proud that Opus has become one of the largest clubs in the school. We feel that the Opus staff both gives and receives through such a worthwhile venture.

Members of the French Club participated in the car-wash and the benefit concert held on Dec. 6. Candy bars were also sold to finance trips to Broadway productions.

The French Club was very honored to host a Haitian artist who presented his art work with a French commentary.

Other enjoyable activities were the weekly meetings when members played Monopoly, Scrabble or Milles Bornes in French, hoping to improve their knowledge of the French language. Perhaps the most entertaining events were the French dinners. Each student cooked a French dish and brought it with them to a member's home. All conversations were held in French making the students feel more comfortable with the language.

Students also assisted in the actual implementation of this program. In regard to the Library, the Honor Society worked closely with the administration in inacting procedural and physical changes as well as instituting a library book return program. They also worked on many other programs of interest to the student body in the hope that the Honor Society will remain a viable working organization in our school.

Senior Sinic

Many people have asked, "What is the Senior Sinic?" Not many people have answered. This is because the Senior Sinic's official charter states that no one is allowed to tell what it is, especially if someone asks. The charter also states that the very existence of the Sinic is to be kept a secret, and in order to keep it secret no meetings are to be held, except when the Rochellean photographer is in school. Members were inducted in early October, in a top-secret ceremony held in the planetarium with the lights off, and were issued their official felt beanies and fake admits to class. The Sinic is the sponsor of many school activities, such as Senior Slump and Coming Late to School Every Day. Officers are elected every year, although this year's officers missed the picture, having been suspended for coming late to school every day. Sinic rules are enforced strictly. For example, one member can be subjected to the ultimate Sinic punishment — arms held over the head for six months — because she was caught entering the library to actually do homework. And you thought being a Sinic was all fun and games and having your picture taken.

Under the leadership of Captain William Owades, the New Rochelle High School B Team won its division championship for the 1975-76 season. Posting an impressive 94-24 record, the team suffered losses on very few occasions. Corey Rinker, Bill Wasley, and Mark Piedmont often provided the necessary high games to make the Huguenots a strong team. Vince Gatalletto did an outstanding job replacing the injured Gary Ruff who was forced to retire because of a knee injury. Dan Neuman often substituted with a high pin count to give New Rochelle the needed depth.

The New Rochelle A Team completed its season in the second division against the strong bowling of Mamaroneck, Port Chester and Salesian. Although strong individual efforts were made by Captain Randy Sherman, Mike Lakow and Daryl Rose, the Purple Rollers could never quite gain the consistency required to complete a winning season. The Huguenot Bowlers maintained their seriousness of purpose throughout the season and bowled many exciting games with the help of Bob Seiden, Jeff Mogull and Matt Gerson. Matches were held Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Loyal Inn Lanes during the months of December, January and February. Coach Frank Agresta believes there are enough returning lettermen to provide New Rochelle with a very strong team in next year's Southern Westchester High School Bowling League.

The New Rochelle High School Varsity Football Team began the 1975 campaign with much promise. An opening day victory over Mt. St. Michael was highlighted by a stingy defense and a speedy offense. However muddy fields and rainy weather constantly put a damper on their quick backs and the offense suffered.

But even inclement weather could not hold back Drexton Carter the teams MVP and only All-County selection. Carter was also aided on offense by strong performances by backs Hosea Foster, Mike Fuller, Tony Johnson, and Steve Strothers as well as Co-Captain Tom Spillane.

The defense which was strong all year was constantly aided by the booming punts of Donnie Stewart. Stewart received the William H. McKenna Memorial Trophy at the Turkey Bowl for his outstanding defensive punts. Co-Captain Bill Savolt, Mike Barskdale, Weldon Turner and Anthony Austin were just a few members of this fine unit.

Unfortunately this poor season ended on a dismal note as New Rochelle once again got bogged down in the mud and lost to Iona Prep 14-0 in the Turkey Bowl Classic.

First-year coach Don Paglieri led the New Rochelle Varsity Ice Hockey Team through a successful season. The Purples ended the regular season with a 8-5-3 record good enough for a fourth place finish in the tough Westchester Interscholastic Ice Hockey League.

This year's team was led by captains, Carl Cohen and John Cancilliere. Cancilliere, a star defenseman, was lost for the season on January 14, when he broke his ankle in a game with Woodlands. Bill Alexander, also a defensive standout was named to replace Cancilliere as captain.

Other backliners for the Purples were seniors Paul Caruso and Jamie Shedlin, juniors Dave Forsythe and Joe McNanny, and Mike Marston, a sophomore.

Skating on the first line for New Rochelle was senior Nicky Ferrara at center, Carl Cohen on the right wing and John McNerney on the left wing. The second line which was centered by Steve Fugazy featured wingers Larry Oldstein and Phil Eisner. Cliff Barr, center for the third line, was flanked by Bobby Benjamin and Mike Fego.

The goaltending duties were shared equally by Bob Woodruff and Roy DiBarolomeo. Both goalies played outstandingly and were considered to be two of the best netminders in the county.

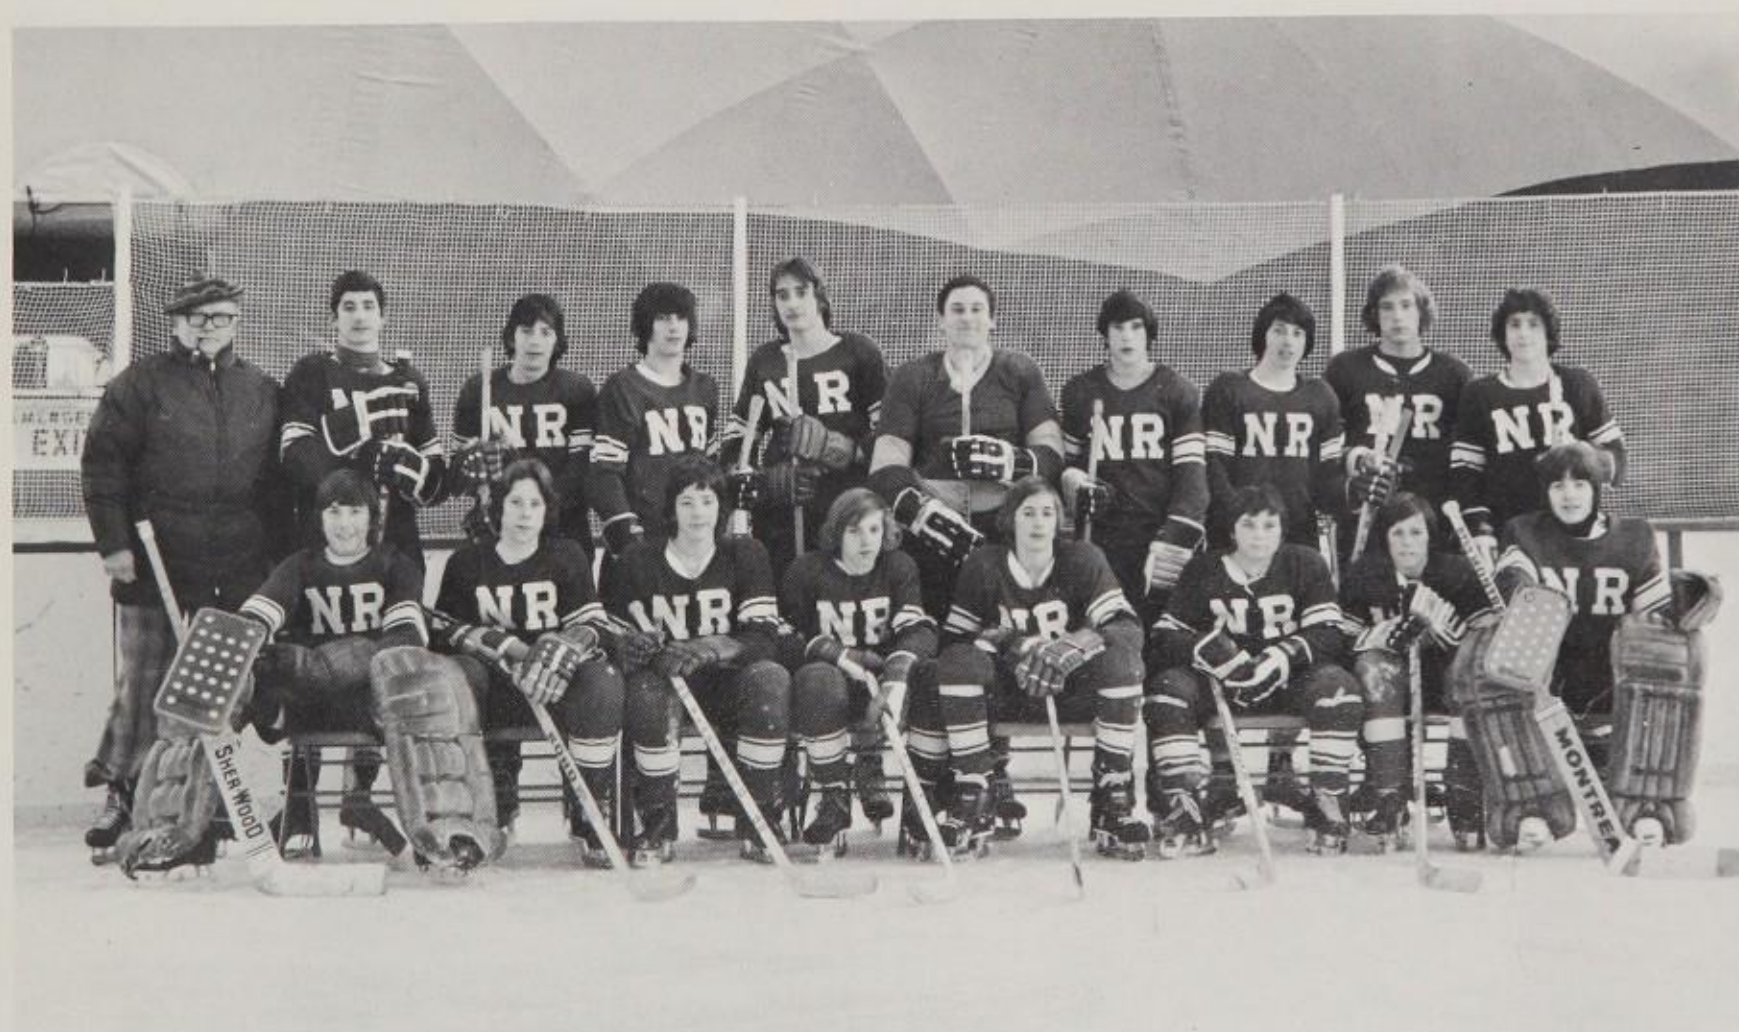

The season ended for the Purples with a heartbreaking loss to Sleepy Hollow in the quarterfinals of the Section I Playoffs. Sleepy Hollow and New Rochelle were tied at one when with only 1:20 left in the third period Sleepy Hollow scored, thus putting an end to New Rochelle's championship hopes.

In what was supposed to be a regrouping year after the loss of eight starters from last year's championship squad, the Huguenot wrestlers still managed to post several outstanding accomplishments. The end of the season, however, was marred by injuries and bad breaks, and ended for many in disappointment.

Indicative of the determination and talent of the team was the Mammaroneck Tiger Tournament. Although New Rochelle was the defending champion; with only three wrestlers seeded and several still missing, it appeared as though not much could be expected. The Purples emerged, however, with three men in the finals; Ken Spencer finished first at 112 lbs., Frank Figari second at 119; and Hans Morris first at 132.

The dual meet season saw the Huguenots lose their first two matches, with several key members missing. But the Purples wrestled well, in winning their next four straight matches. Key wrestlers in these victories were Neil Schulhoff at 177, Brad Sugarman at 145, Lew Lenz at 167, Jamie Sanabria at 105, Jon Levine at 126, and sophomores Bruno DeBenedictis at 138 and Andy Yin at 98, in addition to important wins from the Tri-captains Morris, Spencer, and Figari.

In the Divisional Tournament, Ken Spencer became the first two-time divisional champ in more than ten years, capturing first place for his second consecutive year at 112 lbs. Figari, Morris, and DiBenedictis all finished fourth in extremely tough weight classes. Unfortunately, Lenz, Schulhoff, and Vilabra could not compete in the tournament because of injuries.

Interest in the different cultures of people was the spirit of this year's All Culture Week. Students from varied backgrounds, as well as distinguished visitors, combined their special talents to produce performances of song, dance, and drama of many racial and ethnic groups. The final All Culture Banquet captured the mood of the entire week. At this festive dinner, students, faculty, and parents enjoyed ethnic foods, and were entertained by cultural music and dances.

The 3I Program, which was initiated six years ago, is the alternative school for New Rochelle High School students. Composed of one hundred and fifty students and seven teachers, the program for "inquiry, involvement, and independent study" offers an atmosphere through which many students have mined a wealth of new experience. The program is composed of a complex of six classrooms, a science lab, and an art room.

This 3I experience includes independent study projects, community service work, and classes. Student-run courses are another option. But all these different learning forms serve to fulfill one basic philosophy: Students during the course of their education, must somehow be allowed to develop standards of their own. They must learn to question, to decide, to participate, and to care-about their life.

Specifically, an independent project might be a three-week observation of a trial at the White Plains County Courthouse or the writing of a short story or an extended experiment in plant research; it might be a study of environmental change or a report on Chaucer's England or a taped study of the Anerucab Blues . . . the possibilities are limited only by imagination and motivation.

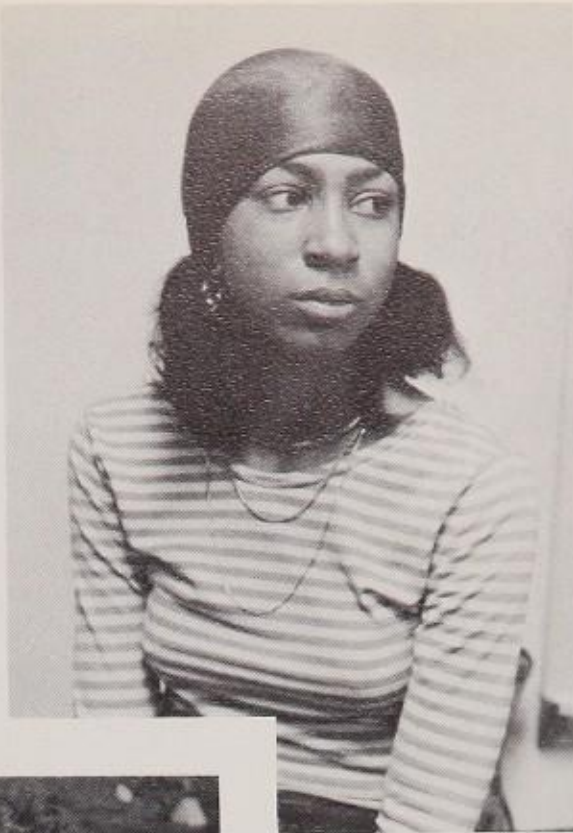

Working as a therapist in New Rochelle Hospital is an example of a community service project. In the past, students have also pursued studies in history at the Sleepy Hollow Restorations of Tarrytown, in science at the Wildcliff Nature Museum and the Museum of Natural History, in education at pre-kindergarten, elementary, and junior high school programs throughout New Rochelle.

Projects can be combined with classes. For example in a study of the elderly in New Rochelle, after discussing their problems, a class worked with them at the Extended Care Pavillion at New Rochelle Hospital and had fund raising events and donation drives.

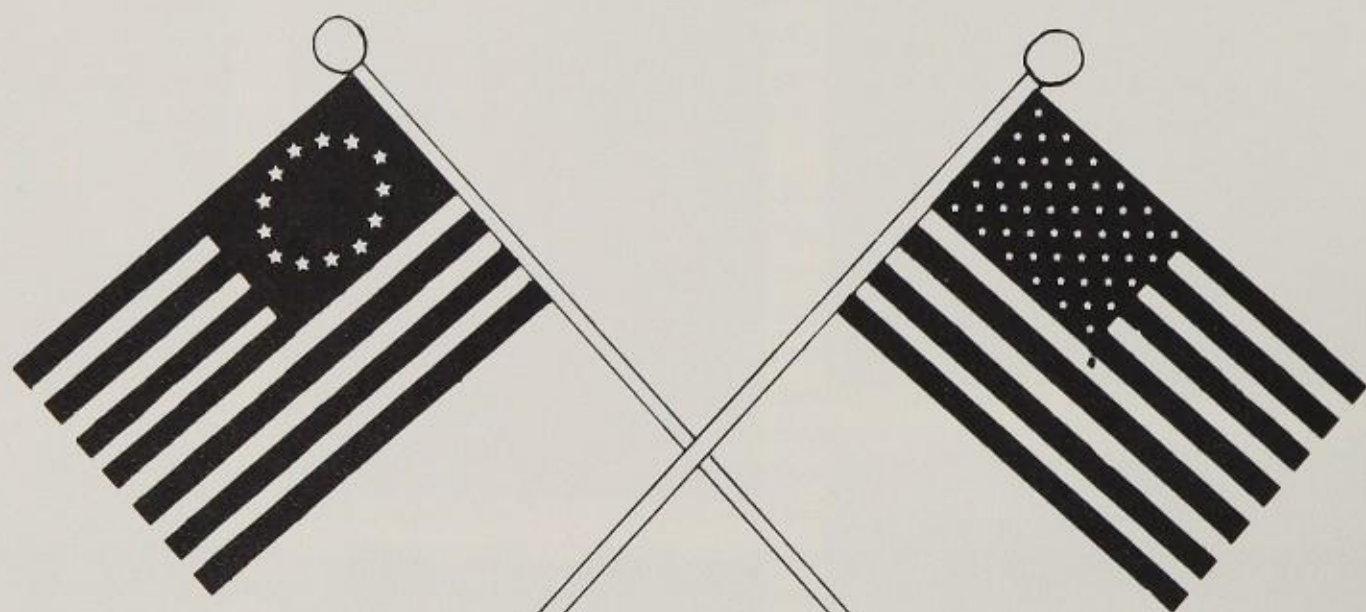

In addition to independent study and community service projects, 3I untradition course offerings include Centennial America, A Typical Person, Language and Behavior, Science Fiction, Ancient Greece, Case Studies in American History, Newspaper, Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Poets, Anthropology, Sociology, Psychology, Writing Workshop, and Shakespeare Seminar.

3I teachers also hold classes in such traditional subjects as Geometry, Algebra, and Trigonometry, Advanced Math, Calculus, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics. Art Classes include ceramics, painting, drawing, and printmaking, while student-run classes have included Satire, Poetry, Yoga, Existentialism, Film Study, and Science Fiction.

But even in these classroom situations, there is present a learning process, and thus an environment, unlike the regular schools. It is the difference that arises when written evaluations, for example, replace numerical grades; when teachers work individually with students; when they are known to students by their first names. The 3I program is different.

MODEL CONGRESS TWELVE

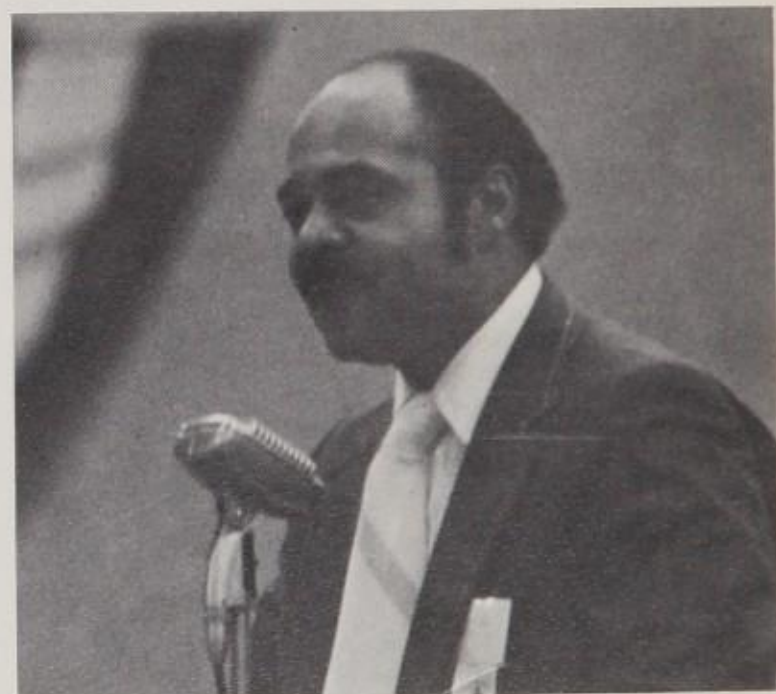

NEW ROCHELLE HIGH SCHOOL APRIL 9, 10, 11, 1976

Model Congress Twelve descended upon New Rochelle High School with a bang of the gavel on Friday, April 9, 1976. The two guest speakers, Assemblyman Andrew Stein and Congressman William Hungate, provided an interesting contrast between an emerging politician and a political veteran. Stein's observations on the state of the union were fiery, while Hungate's remarks reflected the effect of twelve years in Congress.

The highlights of the weekend, of course, were the Saturday afternoon and Sunday morning sessions of the House of Representatives and the Senate. Chairman Bobby Gold and Associate Chairmen Dan Alpert and Tom Gottlieb were outstanding as they presided over several heated debates whose topics ranged from the legalization of abortion to the prohibition of the SST. The Senate, chaired by Presidents Michael Gottfried and Donna Paley, contained equally exciting debates. Senators discussed such controversial issues as gun control, and the legalization of euthanasia.

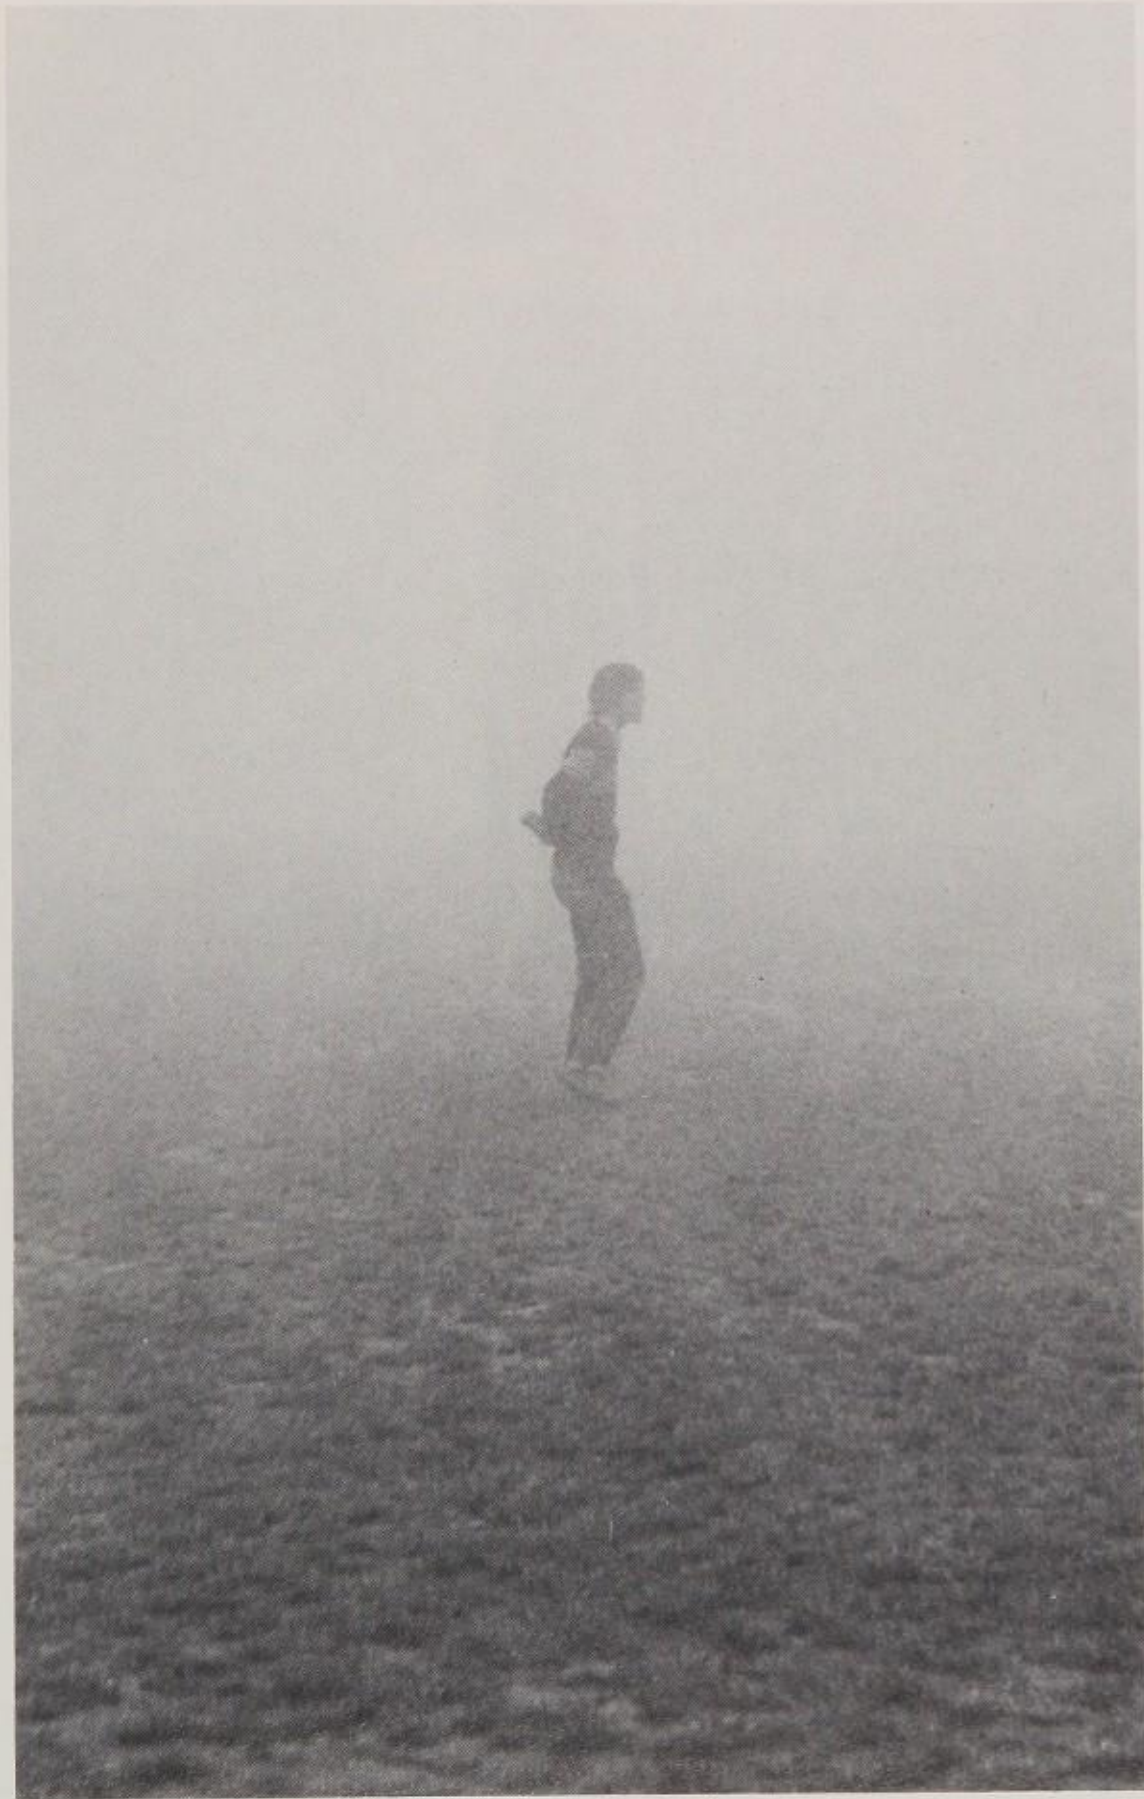

Model Congress XII's Saturday night festivities included a volleyball game and a swim party, and a combination cafe-dance, followed by the traditional "open house" (at which there were so many partying delegates that the house almost did open). Most delegates stumbled into bed in the wee hours of the morning, forcing the postponement of the House and Senate sessions for an hour and a half.

The final touch to the weekend was the banquet at which the awards were presented. The coveted "Willie Cup", named in honor of William Clarke, was received by Mike Rothberg and Mike Gottfried for their service and dedication to the organization over the past year. The first place speaking award was awarded to Jonathan Klein for his stimulating and hilarious arguments in favor of homosexuality (it was a real drag), the SST, and various other topics debated in both the House and Senate.

INDEPENDENCE: the individuality and originality of a person or a people. We, in following the tradition of our ancestors, must resist an older and more experienced establishment. We must break away from the crowd if we are to find ourselves. As we leave this school, in the midst of a Bicentennial Celebration, we are seeking independence of thought and action.

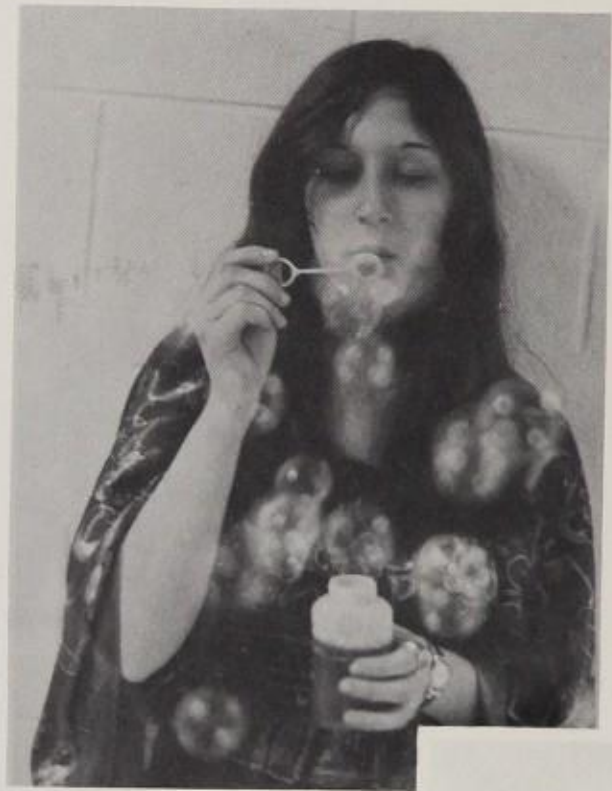

It is this spirit that we look to the past with remembrance and the future with anticipation.
